

Timed Round Robin in peer's assessment

Aims

Round Robin feedback is a learning activity where students work together to give their own feedback to peers. The purpose of this activity is to get students to work cooperatively, practice creativity, and work on speaking and writing skills in a fun and engaging way.

Tasks

to develop students

- ability to work effectively in team
- skill to provide feedback to peers
- intelligence in writing and speaking

+/-

- all students participate equally
- time limit
- peers support

- different level of language
- time limit

Results

students work effectively together providing their own feedback to peers, cooperatively, practice creativity, and master speaking and writing skills in a fun and engaging way.